

27/30 October 2017

Calvin and Hobbes
by WATKINSON

image from http://spainhour83.tripod.com/calvin\_hobbes/C\_H\_17.gif

Greetings, AmLit Scholars—

1. mini-WEDGE—To begin today's class, open a word-processing document and quickly jot down your plan for studying for the first literature test.
2. There is no #2 today—Please do not ask why.
3. Preparing for a Literature Test—We will discuss strategies for reviewing a broad body of literature in anticipation of a cumulative review exercise and then begin to apply those strategies in small study groups.
4. mini-WEDGE—For roughly five minutes at the very end of class, jot down what you think your team needs to accomplish to complete its preparation for the upcoming test.

Tappa! Tappa! Tappa!—
Mr Leo

Homework:

1. Study for the test.
2. Actively read "The Flowering of New England" and the biography of Ralph Waldo Emerson. These materials will not be covered on the test, but I will check active reading.