

08 November 2016

Savage Chickens

by Doug Savage

image from <https://s-media-cache-ak0.pinimg.com/736x/91/44/63/9144635897c1c3834375caf7feb4b91c.jpg>

Greetings, IBsters—

Here's how we'll roll today:

1. WEDGE—Positive Outcome Visualization Time! For roughly ten minutes, imagine what your best possible practice IOC might sound and feel like.

2. miniLectures—We'll break into small teams (not pairs) to practice our skills, discuss today's strategy, and then deliver some practice IOCs rooted in Shakespeare's Sonnet #1.

3. Debriefing

4. Getting a Jump on the Homework—Time permitting, of course.

Tappa! Tappa! Tappa!—

Mr Leo

Homework:

Prepare Sonnet #2 as if you were preparing for a mockIOC.
Make all your notes on a hard copy of the poem.
Bring that document to class.